Proposed Update to the Greenhouse Gas Threshold of Significance for Operational Emissions from Land Development Projects

The Air District staff invites lead agencies, developers, consultants, and interested parties to discuss the draft proposed update to the Air District's recommended greenhouse gas (GHG) threshold of significance for operational emissions from land development projects. The Air District's GHG thresholds assist lead agencies that do not have their own adopted thresholds or climate action plan for project analysis to comply with California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA).

A copy of the staff report on the proposed update to the GHG threshold for operational emissions from land development projects is available on the Air District's website:

Workshop date, time, and location:

January 9, 2019 @ 1:30 p.m.
777 12th Street, 3rd Floor, Sacramento, CA 95814

If requested, the Air District will provide a conference call option for the meeting.

Please direct your workshop questions and staff report comments to Karen Huss at 916-874-4881 or khuss@airquality.org.
