IMPORTANT INFORMATION REGARDING COMPLIANCE WITH PERMITS AND RULES DURING COVID-19 PANDEMIC

The Sacramento Metropolitan Air Quality Management District understands the COVID-19 pandemic is causing new and significant hardships on everyone. Stay at Home orders have caused many businesses to close or make major changes to the way they operate. The District acknowledges these new challenges for businesses and residents.

Please keep in mind, following air quality regulations is more important than ever. This crisis affects respiratory health and clean air will help the wellbeing of everyone in our community. Businesses and residents should make every effort to comply with air pollution control laws and permit conditions that apply to them.

However, if you feel you may not be able to meet an air quality requirement due to the COVID-19 pandemic, please contact the Sac Metro Air District by e-mailing compliance@airquality.org or by calling (916) 874-4800.
