Concern Category

- Residential Sources

- Public Outreach

Strategy

Provide education and incentives to assist homeowners and renters with electrifying household appliances with a focus on homes or residential complexes built prior to 1980.

Actions

- Engage and educate homeowners and renters on the benefits of using carbon-free appliances and share information on available resources.
  - Share information on any available local or regional programs. (e.g., SMUD-Appliance Rebate Programs, City of Sacramento, County of Sacramento).
  - Provide education on how power saving appliances and smart controls (e.g., smart switches, etc.) can help optimize energy use and avoid unnecessary panel upgrades.
- Develop new incentive program to assist qualified residences.
  - Engage with local contractors to determine average cost of conversion.
  - Assist with conversion and infrastructure (electric panels) upgrades.
  - Provide tiered assistance that focuses on low-income residences and multi-family homes.
- Identify labor unions and apprenticeship schools to work with for the incentive program (e.g., Sacramento Job Corps).
- Coordinate with the local governments to connect requirements with incentives.
- Prioritize at risk or vulnerable communities.

Goals (Medium-Term)
